

This book invites a deeper level of the work of caring. I hope it will reach as many practitioners as possible.

~Jean Watson Ph.D. RN., author of Nursing: The Philosophy and Science of Caring

MICHAEL ORTIZ HILL

is a registered nurse, a Buddhist practitioner, and an initiated medicine man with tribal people of Zimbabwe. The core of his spiritual practice has been the refinement and activity of compassion.

Conspiracies of Kindness: The Craft of Compassion at The Bedside of the Ill

by Nurse Michael Ortiz Hill

The Craft of Compassion is based on Ortiz Hill's workshops and is intended for health care professionals, hospice workers, clergy, and lay people.

It's an essential companion for anyone called to the bedside of the ill.

Available in both soft cover and as an e-book at

Amazon.com

BarnesandNoble.com

www.michaelortizhill.com